

Conjunctions

Conjunctions form a link between one word and another. They are words that join together parts of sentences.

The three most common co-ordinate conjunctions are :
and or but

His best sports are golf and tennis.

Jill does not like tea or coffee.

I like fruit, but I don't like oranges.

common co-ordinate conjunctions

and but for nor or so yet

