

An Interview With _____

Name: _____

Imagine you are a reporter for a popular news broadcast. A well-known person is coming to town and you have been given the opportunity to interview them.

(Choose someone you admire. For example, an author, a scientist, a sports personality, or a musician.)

- 1) Prepare for the interview by completing some background research.
- 2) Prepare ten open-ended questions for the interview.
- 3) Write an account of the day you interviewed the person. Quote the person's answers to some of your questions.

Background research:

Who is the person? Why are they so well-known? What are their notable achievements?

Open-Ended Questions:

Open-ended questions begin with "Why" or "How" or "What"
